

Hi, my name is
STRETCH

Did you know?!

Giraffes are the tallest animals on land.

Their tongues are black and long, up to 50cm and allows them to grab and hold onto objects.

Giraffes can talk to each other using infrasound, which can't be heard by us humans.

Their front legs are longer than their back legs so even though they have a really long neck they still have to do a split to reach the water when drinking.
